THE DAUNTLESS ALWAYS

have been fired by the spirit of Daedalus and his waxen wings. It has been, however, during the last hundred years that the most definite strides have been made both in establishing wide spread, free public education and in perfecting mechanical wings. Thomas Hughes was one of the practical dreamers who helped to bring about free high school education in Cincinnati. He bequeathed in 1824, a fund for the establishing of this school which now bears his name. At about the same time all over the world men were experimenting with flight. Hughes High School came into existence at the middle of the nineteenth century. Since then the spirit of education which Hughes typifies has become a dominant force in our present day civilization. The miracle of the airplane belongs to this same period, mechanical flying has been accepted as a necessary means of transportation. As aviation has grown out of the dreams of Daedalus, so education has developed from man's desire to rise.

for themselves in order to escape from the earth into loftier regions. In pursuance of this ideal, man has sought to free himself from commonplaceness, both physical and mental. The wings by which mental freedom has been made possible are the schools.

THE PILOT'S CREED

When the earth retreats beneath my rising plane, I feel the challenge of those who first ventured into the heavens, those who risked so much to carry on the lean years toward man's conquest of the air, and those who today, with me, are striving to uphold the glory of Aviation.

I am conscious of a responsibility akin to that of a sea captain. I must be the master of my ship, of myself, and of every emergency. I must back my ability with keen judgment, accuracy, and unfaltering confidence. My fearlessness must be tempered with caution and wisdom. I must know my airplane in order that I may recognize its limitations and appreciate its possibilities. I must have for my plane the same regard a seaman has for his ship. As my sea is far greater, my ship far faster, so must I, the Pilot, be more sure.

BEACON

THROUGH countless difficulties and fog-hidden dangers the skilled force of navigators have led the student fliers. Under the able command of Pilot Merry and Co-Pilots Kizer and Roberts, they apply toward the education of the young fliers, their knowledge gained by arduous training and thousands of flying hours. Some of the navigators are engaged in training the students in language and history so that they will understand the countries through which they fly. Others teach mathematics, science, and mechanics, training the students to chart their own courses, and preparing them to repair their own equipment if they are forced down. The girl students are taught household arts in anticipation of their duties as hostesses aboard the big plane. Somehow finding time among their other responsibilities, the navigators encourage the student fliers and give them final advice before the take-off.

ADVISES HUGHES FLYERS

To the Class of Nineteen thirty-seven:

George Washington Carver, the eminent colored scientist, who has raised himself by his bootstraps from the discard heap to be a world's benefactor, said something I wish you might ingrain in yourselves: "Learn to do the common things in an uncommon way."

Greetings!

Happy Landings!

Under Miss Koppenhoefer's guidance many publications trophies have come to Hughes. She has been a generous consulting engineer to the Skywriter staff. Mr. Hall is the financial adviser for the magazine and yearbook. Miss Kruckemeyer for direction, Miss Ervin for stage design, Miss Helman for costumes, and Mr. Mobberley for stage management, are the big four behind the scenes in dramatic productions at Hughes. Mr. Coburn, "Art" to many of us, manages the book room, the book shop, and helps us all to find the things we need. Mr. Warren is past master at keeping track of ticket turns and returns.

BEFORE AND AFTER CLASS

May we view the commencement season for the members of the 1937 class as a transfer point from one hangar to another. You have flown your grade and high school course successfully, and are now turning your ship for the days and years through college. Then comes added testing for this ship of yours. Air pockets, mountains, fog, and other hazards are yours to overcome. May your trip be as successful as you deserve, and may you have a happy landing.

Elmer W. Kizer

Mr. Iblings looks after the business affairs of the weekly newspaper. Miss Adomeit keeps high both quality and quantity in the production of posters, favors, and illustrative material for Hughes publications. Miss Krampe and Miss Mandeleil are the smiling public relations committee in the office, answering questions for both teachers and pupils. Miss Tangeman has turned 103 into headquarters for the yearbook; Girl Reserves find their way there, too. Mr. Calvert is the school treasurer, checking accounts and recounts. To the boys he is "Uncle Harry."

AN ANNIVERSARY

DR. EDWARD D. ROBERTS
Superintendent of Schools
Cincinnati

Dr. Edward D. Roberts, appointed Assistant Superintendent of schools in Cincinnati in 1911, and Superintendent in 1929, has an enviable record of flying hours. The skill and understanding of this able pilot have been won during countless hours in the air. "The Skywriter" is happy to celebrate this twenty-fifth anniversary.

Soul attuned to a magic summons,
Pulse attuned to a motor's song,
Cutting a path through sun and darkness,
Mile after conquering mile along.

—Blanche W. Schoonmaker

"THE DAY of the take-off"—how rich in significance are those few words! The sheer adventurous excitement of the unknown, the hesitancy in leaving a life worn smooth through use and dear through associations—graduation is more than a panorama of red roses, white dresses, and diplomas! It denotes a spirit of achievement and of new heights to conquer.

Much has been said of "starting out on life's perilous journey," with the emphasis on the perilous; but isn't graduation rather the time at which we are entrusted with the power to manage the controls of our own planes?

Just as the flyer has to rely in the air on only himself and the condition of his plane, so shall we have to take the responsibility of our tailspins and forced landings.

THE TRAIL

THE CLASS OF 1937

A CLASS HISTORY is extremely presumptive. To write a comprehensive review of the high school life of approximately five hundred people, one would have to be in turn each of the five hundred. This history, however, will endeavor to set forth the main events of our four years as the class of '37.

As a whole we were not very different from any other class as we gathered in the auditorium that day in early September of 1933. Of course we were terrified by numbers of people and strange customs here at Hughes, but we soon got over that. In fact, we began to be rather proud of ourselves. We learned our way about the hangar, joined clubs, "tried out" for the "Gargoyle," and worked harder than we ever had before; so that when the honor rolls were published the stowaways made quite a creditable showing. Then, too, there was a freshman home room that subscribed 100% to "Old Hughes"—the only one in the building that year. So we passed through the stowaway stage and began definitely to identify ourselves with the ground crew of the airdrome.

The year 1934-35! We had become cadets and considered ourselves upperclassmen. The records of that year show an ever increasing number of the class of '37 who were "doing things" and "in things" about the flying field. One of our members was soloist at a symphony concert, and a mere sophomore English class gave a play for the school. Finally we became real upper classmen and were very proud of our badges as student flyers. Various ones of us were elected to important positions in clubs. Then came the class elections! Petitions were an important topic of conversation. After all the hub-bub we elected Ray Gervers, president; Dorcas Marohn, our vice president; Betty Baiter, secretary; and Jack Doerner, treasurer. That year, for the first time we could take part in graduation and were very pleased with our badges as ushers. Some day we would solo!

This, our senior year, has gone rapidly and has been such an exciting one that none of us will ever forget it. We have had our class meetings, paid our class dues, and are now anticipating the thrill of our own graduation, although our plans were upset and our senior year shortened by the flood when blind flying became dangerous.

Although our class is very large each one of us feels that he or she has a definite place in the group and therefore is a part of the long line of Hughes graduates who have made the traditions of Hughes. We are ready for the take-off, but again and again will memory recall us to the home hangar.

Mr. Otis Games

In 312 the senior boys gather under the beneficent but iron hand of "King" Otis Games. Nearly two hundred active young men assemble in a single room, but order prevails, usually. The girls have two home rooms, 112 and 205; Miss Fink presides on the first floor, and Miss Bentley on the second. In these rooms a system of rotation gives each girl a part of the year in each room. Frequently the laughter and festivity in the senior home rooms leak into the halls where underclassmen anticipate enviously their entrance into these majestic portals.

Miss Clara Fink and Miss M. Julia
Bentley

Pilot of his own plane,
each senior launches out into a sea of clouds to surmount the heights of his own ambitions.

The laws and the regulations of sky travel make each pilot responsible for his safe landing. Each navigator is an engineer of his own plane. He must know the fundamentals upon which his plane operates, and he must know the processes of operation. It is also his responsibility to see that his plane is kept in superb working order

HERBERT DINKELAKER

A LEADER in academic as well as athletic affairs, Bert Dinkelaker made a place for himself at Hughes. The automobile accident which caused his death is a tragedy keenly felt by all of us. "Dink" was a truly all-round boy. His election as Honorary President of the class of '38 is evidence of his popularity. His athletic ability centered in two sports, football and track. As a guard on the grid team, he shone. An injury early in the autumn cut short his career in football. This spring he was preparing for the coming track season. In this sport, Bert starred in the discus, having won the district title last year. As a member of Hughes Club and Hi-Y he was active in school affairs. However, aside from student activities he would have been outstanding, for he had a personality which was able to go through happiness and sorrow with a smile. He knew that a grin and a happy wave of his arm didn't hurt much. He may be smiling now—So long "Dink," Hughes will miss you!

BEGINNING its ground work three years ago, the class of 1938 is now in the student pilot rank, waiting anxiously to take over the controls next year. Despite the loss of Bert Dinkelaker, one of the class leaders, it has moved forward in school activities. Although the group has done much in the past three years, it is anticipating a senior year of even greater accomplishment. As its leaders the class has chosen Robert Bode, president; Walter Portune, vice-president; Charlotte Schmidt, secretary; and John Hennessey, treasurer. With these four student guides we are eager to get into solo work.

REFUELING STATION

It is a far cry from a lonely, weather-beaten gas tank in some far-off part of the world to our efficient, familiar and thronged lunch rooms at Hughes, yet both the tank and a lunch room have an important place in a flyer's equipment. The youngest stowaway at Hughes soon learns where the lunch room is, and never forgets it. No pilot starts off in his plane without being sure of places at which he can get gas.

How Much?

Our friends in the kitchen.

The teachers are hungry too.

In Miss Portner's office.

REMEMBER when in early June last year the class of '36 graduated with great excitement and everyone was looking forward to a nice, long summer? Some were planning to go to summer school, some were locating jobs, others were catching busses and trains and some were planning to sleep late in the mornings and generally to enjoy themselves.

When on June 22 summer school opened many Hughes people were here either for extra credits or penance. During the seven broiling weeks that followed, Hughes was filled daily with noisy crowds, but on August 7 the halls became unnaturally silent and bare.

JUNE

JULY

AUGUST

On June 3, 1937, the commencement exercises will bring high school to an end for most of the seniors. As a final farewell, Hughes Club is planning a hike to Brown County State Park in Indiana on the 4, 5, and 6 of the same month. However, the spirit of education is not dead and on June 7, the summer school opens for a six weeks course. Many of Hughes' successful alumnae will probably come home during the summer from their various colleges. Jack Franklin, editor of the Yale yearbook, is one of our most illustrious sons in the East. Betty Franklin, his sister; Helen Schafstall; and Edith Ann Elliott are Mortar Board pledges at U. C. Incidentally Betty has been elected president of Mortar Board to succeed Roberta Theiring, another prominent alumnus. Pete Oesper is now associate editor of the Swarthmore Phoenix, exercising his literary talents. In New York City, Stanley Waxman has a part in a current production of "Eternal Road." Returning again to U. C. we learn that Lauriel Eubank, Alice McKinney, Dorothy Rodenbeck, Betty Bell, Ruth Doherty, Ruth Schoenling, Elizabeth Shreve, Ruth Jean Silverblatt, and Ruth Werle have been chosen for membership in Alpha Lambda Delta, an honorary scholastic fraternity for women. The history of Hughes alumnae is long and interesting, but before we are aware of the time, June is past, the famous "4th" has come and gone, and August, the month before school begins is back again. Many of us will go to college, others into business, and the best wish for every one is "Good Luck."

Final Touches

Oh -
And a Bouquet!

THERE is a certain analogous beauty in aviation and athletics. The graceful swan dive breaking cleanly into the water, and the swooping dash of a power dive are symbols of individual control. Group effort is evident in the virile grace of formation flying. The roaring flight of a battle formation swooping from side to side resembles a huddled group of blocking backs protecting the ball carrier in a football game. Then there is a similarity between the even speed of the endurance flier and the regular plodding of the long distance runner as they circle round and round in a race with fatigue. Athletes and airmen are closely bound in spirit and in love of achievement.

ATHLETICS

HUGHES ACES ACHIEVE RECORDS

HUGHES students have been fortunate this year in seeing four of their teams win district recognition. Southwestern District medals were awarded to the members of the basketball, gym, cross country, and swimming teams.

Although the football team did not win the city title, they enjoyed a very successful season, losing only to Norwood, Newport, and Withrow. The basketball squad was privileged to compete for the state title in Columbus. It was the first time in ten years that a Hughes quintet had this honor. The cross country harriers ran seventh in state competition. But who is surprised at this feat? Our runners have very consistently defeated their rivals for the past four years. The mermen came closer than any other team this year to winning a state title. A very close decision in the relay dropped our boys from the highly desired first place to third place. Because of unfortunate injuries, the gym team was unable to participate in the meet at Columbus. The boys put their utmost strength into defeating Walnut Hills, a victory which had not been witnessed for fifteen years.

The baseball, tennis, and track teams have not as yet completed their schedule. Nevertheless, the coaches are expecting them to finish the 1937 athletic year in championship style.

FOOTBALL

THE 1936 football eleven coached by its efficient mentors, "Red" Krueck and Earl Klinck, again compiled for the season a winning record. The Big Reds, competing against the ranking teams of Greater Cincinnati, managed to win six games of the nine scheduled. For the third successive year, the Withrow Tigers nosed out the Krueckmen for the P. H. S. L. crown, defeating their traditional Big Red rivals 7 to 0 in a hotly contested battle. The speed of the Withrow back field triumphed over our powerful line. Fleet-footed Bierman scored the fatal touchdown of the game by sweeping the Hughes end. Our gridiron warriors displayed their scoring ability by being the first team to cross the goal-line of the powerful Newport eleven.

Captain Arnold "Whitey" Heim heads the list of those players whose football careers at Hughes have ended. Besides Heim, the following boys have worn the red and white colors for the last time:

BASKET BALL

The Big Red Basketeers enjoyed a very successful season during 1936-37. The Hardwoodmen emphatically emerged from the doldrums that pursued their fortunes in the past few years by compiling a season's record that stood at 9 wins and 6 defeats. Of the 9 victories three were the result of triumphs in the state tournament which resulted in the Big Reds winning the Southwestern Ohio District Championship. Hughes shared the Public Hi League crown with Woodward, compiling a league record of 6 wins and 2 losses. Members of the first squad included: Captain Ellis King, Irving Block, William Westerfeld, Peter Gergen, Milton Sharon, Sam Block, Alfred Barran, William Heinz, Ray Gervers, Bernard Kruger, and Wilbur Jung. John Hennessy and Clyde Hunt were the team managers.

SWIMMING TEAM

This year's swimming team has the reputation of being one of the best teams ever produced at Hughes. Guided by their consistent captain, William Lotspeich, the natators completed an undefeated season, having won the city meet and the Southwestern Ohio District meet. At Columbus Hughes placed third. The boys competing up state included Lotspeich, Rosenthal, Hennessey, Mitchell, Calef, Hohman, and Jacobson. All of these swimmers will be lost by graduation with the exception of Rosenthal, who will captain next year's squad. Shelley, Munz, Olden, Niemes, and Ochsner are expected to complete the team for the coming season.

Eleven men from last year's team are returning to the track squad to lead Hughes to greater athletic fame. To date four Hughes teams have won their Southwestern District Meets. The track squad is anxious to establish a record that will be no less worthy of recognition than those records made by the other teams.

This year's track list is headed by Captain Alfred Barron, city champion shot-putter, who gained recognition last year when he broke the city record. The other members from last season include Gervers, Elvove, Hennessey, Cammerer, Brooks, Kruger, Hennigan, Doerner, and Frye. Hughes was most unfortunate in losing Herbert Dinkelaker, last year's discus champion and one of the best all around athletes to ever enter our doors. Gervers, Hennessey, Brooks, Barron, Kruger, and Doerner will be lost by graduation.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

Fortune smiled on the cross country team for the third successive year. Again Coach Paul Reichert's harriers won the city championship. With Captain Bernard Kruger and Bell setting the pace, this year's squad, composed of Bell, Kruger, Di Giokino, W. Jung, C. Jung, Hennigan, Kline, and Hillman defeated their rivals to win the Southwestern District Title. This title enabled the runners to compete in the State meet, in which they captured seventh place. This year's graduating list will include Kruger, Di Giokino, and Hillman. Coach Reichert is looking forward to another championship with five letter-men back next year.

CROSS COUNTRY

For the past fifteen years our gym team has been unable to overwhelm the Walnut Hills jinx. At last this year's team, led by Captain Frank Fielman, State champion on the side horse, turned the tables and won the city championship and the Southwestern District meet. Fielman was the main factor in the team's completing an undefeated season.

This year's tennis squad, led by Captain Carl Senft, is anticipating a successful season. Although the loss of Bill Talbert from last year's team will be felt considerably, such capable men as Dunbar, Bortz, Froome, and Kraemer will be called upon by Coach Kindschy to fill his shoes. Benedict, Wright, Vockell, and Boxill will also be on hand to fill in the missing links.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

Centerball began at the first of the year, being second only to hockey to open up the indoor activities for girls. It was in this sport that the gym teacher, new this year, Miss Kellner, showed talent in coaching center ball. After many weeks of practice, the first season of round robins came up, but not in the form of color teams, but grade teams. This was because of the large number of girls. The games between classes proved to be bitterly contested. Coming to the top after straight victories over the three other grades, the seniors were handed their championship title. Elva Sterman was an able captain, and the girls who showed their cooperative winning form as the other members of the senior team are Esther Schleuter, Florence Schepper, Viola Ferguson, Elsie Meder, Bess Polinsky, Marilyn Ruehl, Jeanne Tonne, Ruth Kipp, Marg Zahn, Dot Jung, Ann Williams, Audrey Walter, Virginia Anders, Gertrude Wagner, Eleanor Morrison, and Alma Mueller. These girls completely out-shadowed every other team and left only a vague memory of any other possible stars.

The fine turn-out of all grades was expected as base ball is a very popular sport. The girls, as usual with Miss Kellner at the helm, were divided into teams consisting of a regulation number of players. This preliminary round robin color teams tourney showed a brilliant array of stars. Out of the freshie ranks Rosemary Toepfer, Betty Nummert, Marie Thompson were grand; as were Betsy Jochum, Virginia Bartel, Katherine Wehrman of the '39 graduates. The juniors were led by Alice Underwood, Jesse Kramer, and Esther Silverstein, and the seniors by Carol Brestel, Florence Schepper, Virginia Anders, Esther Schleuter, and Ann Williams. The grade tourney followed this, and the stars proved to be permanent as they continued to show their good form. Unfortunately, this sport could not be played out-of-doors, although a few attempts were made to secure fields. But even though hindered by walls, ceiling, small space, and apparatus, the girls managed to make a good showing. A great battle for leadership endured throughout the whole season of play.

Kick ball, popular at Hughes High School among the girls, is a game seldom heard of outside of Cincinnati. Yet here practically every girl knows it. The game was open to all grades. Again, the lack of space and the hindrances in the gym gave a limited value to playing. But the games were augmented this year by a few meetings down on Coy Field, where four games could be played at a time. Most of the round robin games were played there. After the usual color tourney, the grade teams competed for the championship. It was a great battle for all four grades, with neither freshie, junior, sophomore, nor senior having the visible edge. Yet, some one had to win, and anyone's guess as to the champion would have been as good as that of anyone else. The outstanding players of all grades could be listed as follows: Rosemary Toepfer, Kit Pounsford, Betty Mummertz, Marg Berman, Susan Cismati, Virginia Bartel, Esther Silverstein, Ruth Schwab, Margie La Fitte, Mary Anderson, Virginia Anders, Carol Brestel, Margaret Decker, and Esther Schleuter.

VOLLEY BALL

AS SOON as the center ball was stored away, the volley balls began to show themselves. They were immediately smashed and batted about unmercifully by the combined efforts of girls of all grades. A great game, as much fun and actual sport as any sport in the gym, was enjoyed by all, be they official, as Miss Kellner, players, or on-lookers. The girls had keen competition to meet, but they went at it willingly, and the color tourney ended up with these results

TEAM	WON	LOST
White .....	6	1
Blue .....	5	2
Brown .....	4	2
Purple .....	4	3
Red .....	4	3
Yellow .....	3	4
Green .....	1	5

The winning team, "White," was captained by Marguerite Zahn. When the different grades chose their captains, Virginia Anders, for the A; Alice Underwood, B; Virginia Neubacher for C; and Rosemary Toepfer, for D, were elected. The class tournament was played off and a surprising upset took place as the sophomore team took full command of the field.

Sophomore .....	3	0
Senior .....	2	1
Freshman .....	0	3

The winning combination for the '39 class was Virginia Neubacher, Margie Berman, Betty Walther, Virginia Bartel, Jean Altman, Esther Krigel, Bea Higgins, Agnes Underwood, and Milly Fangmeyer. Yet the sophs didn't have all the stars, as Dot Jung, Verna Hickman, Ruth Schmidt, Jesse Kramer, Dorothy Bleil, and Ruth Hoffman were fine players, too.

WINNING TEAM

The girls' gym plane, piloted by Miss Maud Suter and her worthy assistants, Misses Ann Marie Kellner, Elsa Kramer, and Jeanette Nurre, soared to a new high in girls' athletic competition. The girls came under the sportsmanlike and intelligent influence of these women either in the gym classes or the after school sport activities, in a program well planned for each season. A resume of this year's sports program shows the girls the outstanding athletes. Hockey carried a list of nine seniors and two juniors. The centerball championship was won by the twelfth graders, while the big upset of the year came in volleyball when the sophomores took the honors. May the future stars of our girls' athletic competition shine even brighter than this year's winners.

BASKET BALL

Basketball is keen, exciting, and fast. Pivoting, tossing baskets, dribbling, and passing are arts. 1937 was a real "rookie" year for girls' basketball; nearly all of the twenty odd girls of the allowed senior and junior groups had never played before.

Team	Won	Lost
White .....	0	2

A very talented senior, Peggy Decker, was captain of the "Red" team, and of the Blue, Virginia Anders, and the White, Esther Schleuter. Following this grand take-off, the intergrade tourney began. The '37 graduates fought hard and whipped their opponents decisively, two out of three games, for the championship. These girls got the letters: Virginia Andler, captain, Peggy Decker, co-captain, Ann Williams, Milly Ehrmantraut, Elva Sterman, Florence Schepper, Eleanor Morrison, Dot Jung, Verna Hickman, Doris Butler, and Esther Schleuter. However, a few junior girls were outstanding and deserve mention: Mary Anderson, Ruth Adams, Alice Underwood, and Jesse Kramer. Miss Kellner was the able instructor.

HOCKEY

Soon after school had begun to run along smoothly in September, the hockey enthusiasts were called together by Miss Nurre for their first meeting. Even on exceptionally cold October and November days, muddy field or dry field, girls and their coach were to be found out on Coy Field puffing, panting, playing, and keeping warm through their play. After weeks of this, after Thanksgiving to be exact, a final meeting of all participants was held. At this get-together the girls listed their choices in order of talent as they saw it, for the letter winning eleven.

JEAN TONNE'S JACKKNIFE DIVE

Swimming, unlike other sports, is a year round activity. Miss Nurre handled all of the program and coached the girls. Grade team captains were chosen before the first meet in December. The girls elected were Jeanne Tonne, A grade leader; Ruth Adams, B grade; Edith Kirshner, C; and Ethel Shapps, D grade. The first meet was really a forecast of the year's active swimmers, as the sophomores with their able captain and augmented by the exceptional work of Bee Nielson, Kate Wehrman, Virginia Bartel, and Mildred Jacobson, took first honors. The seniors were next, followed by freshies, then juniors. The second meet was held in the middle of April, at a time when all girls were in the pink of condition and ready to show their stuff after seven months of practice. This time the sophomores again walked off with top ratings. Life Saving group met once a week during the last two months of school and when the final test for letters came, the girls recognized as the best were: Jeanne Tonne, Ann Williams, Rosa Fortmeyer, Betty Kilgus, Mildred Jacobson, Edith Kirshner, Jean Altman, Virginia Bartel. Those girls are excellent mermaids, and surely could be leaders of any tank tussle held around here. As swimming is considered by many expert athletes, officials, and players as the outstanding, most important and best of all sports, the letter winners of '37 have a good start on the road to athletic success.

AT THE AIRPORT

THIS year at Hughes both the boy's and girl's athletic teams have contributed a share of the excitement accompanying all competitive games. The girls, confined almost entirely to intramurals, kept up a fighting elimination contest of their own along side the boys' extremely successful year. Between games, however, the auditorium session and club activities furnish both recreation and educational experiences. The auditorium periods are usually held weekly, bringing outstanding speakers and entertainers to both upper and lower classmen. Late in the fall, Jim Stone, a graduate of Hughes, and his adviser, Dr. Mason, presented a program of Indian history and dancing to an enthusiastic audience. Recently, Juanita Bauer and on another occasion, "Kilties," appeared for the first time at Hughes. Miss Bauer, a very clever actress, gave a series of character sketches and dramalogues. The "Kilties," a Scotch quartet, presented a program of excellent singing interspersed with bagpipe music and Scotch history. These random examples illustrate the quality and variety of the auditorium programs. But the clubs furnish still another source of recreation for the students. Several of these organizations, such as Hughes Club, have speakers at nearly every meeting to discuss with the members innumerable questions. The Stamp Club has auctions for both members and outsiders, conducted by experienced stamp dealers. The Camera Club gives practical demonstrations of dark-room technique and printing at some of their meetings. Considering these facts it is easy to see that much of a pupil's training may come from his club life, as well as his curricular activities. Many of the teachers sponsor these clubs lending their experience and skill to the discussion. From these associations the students make new friends in the large student body that is Hughes. All club activities become the fuselage, carrying the social and educational functions of school life. The airport is spacious, its activities are varied, the personnel includes thousands. Hughes hangar knows the necessity for cooperation.

IN ORDER to bind together the scholastic activities, the hobbies, and the social life of the student flyers, many of the students and teachers have organized clubs and hobby groups. Some of these organizations, such as Hughes Club, Honor League, and the Girl Reserves, stress character building and student aid; others, such as the Stamp and Chess Clubs, train their members in fuller enjoyment of their leisure time. In every case the clubs strive to give a deeper value and more widespread usefulness to curricular life. Numerous friendships between the faculty and students grow out of club associations, as well as a better understanding between lower and upper classmen. After the take-off, when the solo flyers recall their training days, it will be thoughts of their club life, the best times in school, that bring the most vivid memories.

REPORTS FOR DUTY

OTHER organizations have a continued existence, but the Annual Staff is new each year because as soon as the Annual is published the staff that gets it together disbands. There is a collection of old Annuals in the library and each one is the work of an entirely different set of people; yet all are linked together by the fact that each group was working for the same purpose. They all tried to include in their book some of the life and ideals of their school so that the seniors might have a visible record of their high school life. Because of this, there is a similarity among them all, although the style of year books has changed in the last few years. So here and now the Crew of the "Sky-writer" offers you its attempt to portray the events of the year of 1936-'37.

THE motto of the Honor League aptly expresses the theme that runs through all the meetings. The girls began the year with the usual successful little sister party when each senior girl received at least one freshman sister. Through the splendid aid and leadership of the adviser, Miss M. Julia Bentley, there have been many interesting speakers at the monthly meetings, among them Miss Gertrude Avey from the Public Library; Mrs. Ingle, dean of girls at the University of Cincinnati, for whom the girls gave a lovely tea; and Miss Katherine Morrison who spoke on Ireland. Other programs included a play with some of the senior girls taking part, talks on etiquette by the girls, and talks on honor in different phases of life, as well as a box for questions submitted by the girls.

HUGHES CLUB

Hughes Club, sponsored by "Cap" Kizer, tries to promote good fellowship between the upper and lower classmen. The group meets each Friday at the Central Y, usually bringing a speaker to address the members. Some of the prominent men and women who spoke before the club were Mayor Wilson, Major Outcalt, Mrs. Lotspiech, and the Reverend A. O. Hjerpe. In April the club gave a dance at the Hartwell Country Club, and at the end of the year some of the members expect to complete their interesting activities with a hike to Indiana. The Hughes Club is responsible for some useful and valuable gifts to the school such as the public address system and the office signs, and for various services to the student body.

OLD HUGHES

Hughes is proud of her magazine. "Old Hughes" has earned an honor rating for eight years. The student body looks forward with eager anticipation to each interesting issue. This year Alice Holberg and Bob Casey have edited the publication under the direction of Miss Hazel Koppenhoefer. Kenneth Elgin has been its business manager. The theme dominating the magazine has been "Reflections"—reflections of the campus, of fir trees in the winter snow, seed catalog reflections, all mirroring the shifting life about us. "The Old Hughes" staff also edited a new handbook this year.

EACH Tuesday and Thursday the Boys' Glee Club gathers to sing, enjoying the harmony of male voices. Directed by Mr. Arthur Havlovic, the fifty members frequently entertain the school in auditorium. This year, accompanied by the A Cappella Choir, the boys went to Oxford, Ohio, to take part in the Southwestern Ohio Music Festival. The group was rated as excellent, and two of the soloists, McSpadden and Babcock, received special commendation. Hughes is proud of its largest group of male voices.

A C A P P E L L A C H O I R

Singing a cappella under the able direction of Mr. Havlovic, the Hughes choir has given very real pleasure to many listeners. Clad in their impressive robes of black and scarlet, they are good to look upon. They have sung frequently at Hughes; on various occasions they have gone abroad. At Christmas time the choir sang at the University Y. M. C. A. and the Art Museum. Recently they took part in a Music Festival at Miami University, ranking "Excellent."

The HUB OF ACTIVITY

Wherever you go, whatever you do, you see the telephone in the center of things, day and night. Without it business and social activity would slow down to a walk. Imagine a community without the fire and police protection the telephone provides. What suffering and inconvenience would follow a sudden end to this quick contact with doctors, druggists, merchants and service institutions! Your telephone, constant in serving, carries on. . . .

"OVER NEW HORIZONS . . NOT

A high-contrast, black and white photograph of a cloudy sky. The clouds are bright white against a dark, almost black background, creating a dramatic, high-contrast effect. The clouds are scattered and vary in density, with some appearing as soft, billowing masses and others as more defined, wispy streaks. The overall composition is abstract and atmospheric.
